

LIST OF PARTICIPANTS

7th WHO - IUMSP INTERNATIONAL SEMINAR ON THE PUBLIC HEALTH ASPECTS OF NON COMMUNICABLES DISEASES

LAUSANNE, HOTEL AULAC, 3 – 8 JUNE 2013

	Dr Intithar Al-Attar, Baghdad, Iraq Since Mars 2008, I have been manager of N.C.D. unit 1_Early detection of Hypertension and Diabetes was 5 P.H.C. at 2008 _89 at 2012 _100% of our P.H.C. 2_Eye health care _children before 5 years old ____-all our P.H.C. (89) _Secondary eye health care ___ 3 P.H.C. 3_Elderly age care centers__2 centers 1 in a hospital the other in a P.H.C. 4_Planning for: 1_increase No. of secondary eye health care More elderly care centers Training to prevent obesity, cardiovascular diseases ,Diabetes Email: intithar204@yahoo.com
	Dr Aisha Andrewin, Belmopan, Belize Dr. Aisha Andrewin obtained her medical degree from the University of the West Indies and a Master of Science in International Public Health from NYMU (Taiwan). She is currently the national epidemiologist (2011 to present) and non-communicable disease (NCD) focal point (2008-2009 & 2011 to present) of the Ministry of Health, Belize. In 2008 she oversaw the piloting of the Caribbean Epidemiology Centre's minimum data set for NCDs. In 2011 she spearheaded the development of a national NCD strategic plan. She has also been involved in the adaptation of national clinical management protocols for Asthma, Hypertension and Diabetes. Current activities and future areas of work include collaborating on a national action plan for cancer; cancer surveillance and registration and the development of an action plan and monitoring and evaluation framework for NCDs. Email: aandrewin@health.gov.bz
	Dr Nima Asgari, Nonthaburi, Thailand Dr Nima Asgari is a Public Health Physician with more than ten years' experience in various fields of public health at local, national and international settings. He is currently working as a Public Health Administrator for WHO country office in Thailand, but has previous work experience with WHO in Cambodia, Geneva and China. His work experience with WHO covers both communicable and non-communicable diseases as well as health promotion activities and policy development. Dr Asgari graduated as a physician from Edinburgh University, Scotland, UK and has a Master's degree in Public Health from the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine. Prior to his work with WHO, he has worked as a public health specialist with the Health Protection Agency of England at local and national level. His other work experience include working on guideline development for the National Institute for Clinical Excellence (NICE, now named national Institute for Health and Care Excellence) , Public Health Laboratory Services of England as well as local health authorities in Greater London area. Email: asgarin@searo.who.int
	Ms. Yulia Bakonina, WHO, World Health Organization, HQ, Geneva, Switzerland Yulia Bakonina graduated from the State University – Higher School of Economics in Moscow, Russia with a degree of a specialist in “economic sociology”. Worked in the Ministry of Healthcare of the Russian Federation dealing with cooperation with WHO, NDPHS, OECD, IARC, Codex Alimentarius, as well as bilateral cooperation with European countries. Was a part of the Russian team to organize jointly with WHO First Global Ministerial Conference on Healthy Lifestyles and Noncommunicable Disease Control in April, 2011. Since October 2012 seconded by the WHO Headquarters, Cluster of noncommunicable diseases and mental health to facilitate and coordinate the flagship communication project aimed at raising the priority of the prevention and control of noncommunicable diseases in low- and middle-income countries. Email: bakoninay@who.int

	Dra Margarita Claramunt, San José, Costa Rica Margarita Claramunt obtained her Licenciante in Human Nutrition, University of Costa Rica and Master in Manager of public health, University Saint Lucia (Costa Rica), Specialization in health promotion, University Complutense de Madrid. She realized studies in Leadership and Management in Health Policies, Institute of Public Health, Mexico. She received training in Physical Activity and Public Health, University South Carolina, USA and CDC Atlanta. She is founder and active member of Costa Rica in the Physical Activity Network of the Americas (PANA) since year 2000. She is coordinator of the National Plan of Physical Activity and health 2011-2021, and is technical coordinator of the Policy and the National Plan of the Food Security and Nutrition 2011-2021. She is the national coordinator in Non Communicable Disease in The Health Ministry and president pro tempore of Non Communicable Disease of Central America and Dominican Republic. She is in charge of the formulation of the National Strategy and Action Plan for the prevention and control of the non communicable disease 2013-2021 Email: maclaramunt@hotmail.com
	Dr Tandin Dorji, Thimpu, Bhutan Tandin Dorji has an Honours Degree in Biomedical Science from the National University of Ireland, Cork, Ireland, and an MPH from the Johns Hopkins School of Public Health. He has been working in the Ministry of Health since 1996, as head of the Public Health Laboratory, Chief of the Communicable Diseases Division since 2009 and very recently as Chief of the Non-Communicable Diseases Division (2013) in the Department of Public Health. He has been involved mostly in control and prevention of infectious diseases like HIV, TB, dengue, introduction of new vaccines and also headed the H1N1 pandemic response. He hopes to replicate his experience in communicable diseases control to strengthen the NCD prevention program in Bhutan Email: tandindorji@health.gov.bt
	Dr Ramez Dwekat, Ramallah, Palestine A Palestinian medical doctor graduated from Osman Gazi University, Eskisehir, Turkey, 2002. He worked as a resident doctor at several private and governmental hospitals for 8 years. With a graduation thesis on role of physical activity in prevention and control of DM, he had his High Diploma degree on Diabetology from University of Jordan, Amman, Jordan, 2011. He has been working at NCD's department as Head of Diabetes section since 2011. This section is the place where all issues concerning prevention and control of DM are related to. Recently he has been assigned to be the director of the NCD's unite, who, in addition to his role in planning, training and strategy building for NCD's, is currently leading the Palestinian Ministry of Health's Project to implement the WHO's PEN Approach Protocol in PHC clinics as the first country in the region and 2nd in the world. He is also one of the trainers of the project. Email: dr.ramez.dwekat@gmail.com
	Dr Louisa Ganda, Freetown, Sierra Leone Louisa Ganda obtained her MD degree from the Hacettepe University Ankara, Turkey and a specialist in community medicine degree from the same university. She is registered with the Sierra Leone medical and Dental Council. She was until recently the HIV/AIDS, TB and malaria in the WHO country office Sierra Leone. She has been working with the WHO country office Sierra Leone since 2005, where she has been providing technical support to the national HIV/AIDS, TB and malaria programmes. She is currently the National Professional Officer Disease prevention and control in the WHO country office Sierra Leone. She provides technical support to the following programmes: Emergency preparedness and response, integrated disease surveillance, Non communicable, communicable and neglected tropical diseases. Email: gandal@sl.afro.who.int

	Dr Noraryana Hassan, Putrajaya, Malaysia Noraryana Hassan obtained her Bachelor of Medicine & Bachelor of Surgery (MBBS) from the University of Malaya , Kuala Lumpur (Malaysia) and Master of Public Health (MPH), Specialist in Health Promotion from University Malaysia Sarawak (Malaysia). She is currently a senior Epidemiologist of Non Communicable Disease Control Unit in Melaka State Health Department. She has been gazetted as Public Health Specialist, the Ministry of Health Malaysia since 2008 and had 6 years experience in handling NCD programme for Melaka state. She led in various NCD Programmes and Projects in Melaka include CVD Screening Programme, Community CVD Intervention Programme for the high risk group, Mental Health Screening Programme for secondary school students, Melaka Smoke Free City Project and Melaka Health Planning Project. She led various NGOs and currently she is a Chairman of Melaka Diabetic Association, President of Melaka Jump Rope Association, Chairman of Melaka Health Bureau of Women Civil Servants Association and an Advisor of Community Association of Health Email: noraryana@mlk.moh.gov.my
	Mrs. Doris Herrera, Quito, Ecuador Doris Herrera obtained her Nursing Bachelors Degree from the Pontifical Catholic University of Ecuador, and her Master's degree from the Latin-American Social Sciences Faculty FLACSO, Ecuador. Additionally, she obtained a Masters degree in Gender and Sustainable Development from Ambato Technical University. She is currently responsible of the NCD Strategy at the Ministry of Health of Ecuador. Since 2000, she has been working with both the national government and international organizations like UNAIDS and UNDP in the design and implementation of several public health policies in Ecuador, including sexual and reproductive health policy, gender, environment and HIV-AIDS. In the latest years she has managed important Strategic National Plans and governance processes for the Ministry of Health. She authored and coauthored several public health publications. Currently she is leading the NCD strategy that includes five components: 1) governance, 2) promotion and prevention, 3) diagnosis, attention and treatment, 4) strategic information and epidemiological surveillance, and 5) social participation Email: doris.herrera@msh.gov.ec
	Dr Mahad Mohamed Hassan, Mogadishu, Somalia Mahad Mohamed Hassan obtained his MBBS degree from the Benadir University Somalia and now pursuing MPH from Makerere University Uganda. He is certified in medicine. He is currently director of Non-communicable Diseases Unit in the Directorate of Health of the Somalia Ministry for Human Development and Public Service. He is a Lecturer in Nutrition and Dietetics at Benadir University Faculty of Medicine. He has been a member of the team working on developing Somalia Health Sector Strategic Plan. He has been working since 2011-2012 with World Assembly of Muslim Youth WAMY as country medical coordinator. Since late 2009-2011 He has been a Physician based at Aden Abdulle Osman Hospital Mogadishu, Somalia, handling mainly patients complaining from NDCs namely Hypertension, Diabetes, etc. He participated regional meeting on prevention and control of NCD & risk factors Kuwait 29-30, 2013 He is now a member of the team involved in the development of the Somalia's new Public Health Polices and Acts, Drug Control Act, Tobacco Control Act. He served as an adviser for the Somalia's ruling party Peace and Development Party PDP in its National Health vision and Health sector in relation to health care quality, expansion of health services. Email: drmahad60@gmail.com
	Dr Lamia Mahmoud, Khartoum, Sudan Dr. Lamia Mahmoud graduated from the Faculty of Medicine, University of Khartoum in 1994. She received her Clinical MD in Community Medicine from the Post-Graduate Board of the University of Khartoum in 2006. Since 1999, Dr. Lamia has worked in the various Primary Health Care departments of the Federal Ministry of Health in Sudan, and was Director of the National Reproductive Health Program for four years prior to joining WHO. She has worked as a part-time tutor in various Sudanese universities, and collaborates with Sudan Medical Specialization Board in the training and supervision of MD students and other research schemes. She has worked as a consultant to International population Council, International Planned Parenthood Federation (IPPF), and UNFPA. Dr. Lamia joined WHO Sudan Country Office in April 2012 and as Technical Officer for NCDs, provides on-going technical support to the National NCDs Program and the Tobacco Control Program in the Federal Ministry of Health. She is currently assisting the program in developing and finalizing various strategic documents related to NCDs. She is also supporting the process of establishing a multi-sectoral committee to strengthen the national response to the NCD problem in Sudan Email: mahmoudl@sud.emro.who.int

	Dr Fatima Mouzouni, Rabat, Morocco Fatima-Zahra MOUZOUNI is titular of Doctorate in Biology (option: Nutrition) of the University Mohamed V, Rabat in 1994. She has been working since 1996 in the Ministry of Health (Epidemiology and Diseases control Direction). She participated in the implantation and development of National Diabetes Program and now she is Head of Metabolic and Endocrine diseases office / No communicable diseases department / Ministry of health since 2005. She's also responsible of iodine deficiency control program Email: fzmouzouni@yahoo.fr
	Dr Alexey Novozhilov, Moscow, Russia Alexey Novozhilov obtained his Ph.D. degree from Federal Research Institute for Health Organization and Informatics in 2004. A key theme of his work - monitoring of projects in health. Since 2003, he also works in the First Moscow State Medical University. He is currently professor assistant. He is the author or co-author of about 20 scientific articles and textbooks. In the Federal Research Institute for Health Organization and Informatics he also a leading lecturer on health management and programs monitoring. He is co-author of the course for Russian-speaking countries of the WHO European Region to planning NCD prevention programs produced in Russia. He participated as an expert and performer of WHO projects on the analysis of the health system (primary health care, public health). Email: novozhilov@mednet.ru
	Dr Sokking Ong, Brunei Darussalam Dr Ong obtained her MBBS degree from the University of Melbourne and a Master of Medicine in Public Health from the National University of Singapore. She is board certified as a Fellow of Academy of Medicine, Singapore in Public Health specialty. Prior to joining MOH of Brunei, she was an Advanced Specialist Trainee in Singapore, working closely with the Health Promotion Board of Singapore on the development of national obesity action plan. Since joining MOH Brunei in 2009, she has led in various initiatives and policy development in diseases control. She has represented Brunei in various regional and international consultations and forums at the ASEAN, APEC and WHO platforms. When the National Multisectoral NCDs prevention and control committee was formed in 2012, she has been an active driver of multisectoral consultations and development of a national action plan for NCDs prevention and control in Brunei. In addition to her responsibilities in MOH, she is currently an adjunct senior lecturer at the Institute of Health Sciences, University of Brunei Darussalam, teaching in the undergraduate medical degree, Master in Primary Health Care and Master in Public Health. Email: sokking_ong@hotmail.com
	Dr Jose Ortellado, Asunciòn, Paraguay Specialist Internal Medicine Physician, Critical Care Medicine and Hypertension. Director of Cardiovascular Prevention National Program of the Ministry of Health of Paraguay. Vice President of the Congress of the Latin American Society of Internal Medicine 08-2013. Scientific Secretary of the Paraguayan Society of Hypertension 2010-2013 Medical Program of the National Cardiovascular Prevention MSP y BS 10 years ago, making care and educational talks in the Country. Secretary and Coordinator of the Bureau of Epidemiology of hypertension in the II Latin American Consensus on Hypertension held in Paraguay. Diploma in Public Health at the University of Santiago Chile. Currently responsible for socializing promotion, prevention and treatment of hypertension and noncommunicable disease prevention and control in MSPyBS services. Catholic University Teaching, in the chair of Medical Clinical Email: joseortelladom@yahoo.com

	Dr. Fahim Paigham, Afghanistan Dr. Fahim obtained MD degree from University of Nangrahar Afghanistan and DPH from London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine. Currently he is the director of NCD/MOPH Afghanistan and led all NCD related activities in Afghanistan; he technically led the national Non-Communicable Disease Strategy for Afghanistan. He cooperates with Kabul international University in reviewing and revising strategies relevant to tobacco control and radiation in Afghanistan. He has acted as a director of National AIDS Control Program in Afghanistan from 2009-2011 as well. Email: fahimpaigham@gmail.com
	Ms. Lubna Razak, Brunei Darussalam Lubna Razak graduated from University of Nottingham with a BMedSci (Hons) and has an MPH from the University of Sheffield. She is currently a Research Officer with the Health Promotion Centre of the Ministry of Health, Brunei Darussalam. Two pilot projects under her purview are the evaluation of a workplace health initiative for Civil servants and the setting up of an active adolescent clinic. Her responsibilities also include coordinating the research initiatives on non-communicable Disease (NCD) prevention and control in her role as the focal person for the newly formed NCD Unit. Her previous experience in the National Disease Registries and Research and Strategic planning in Singapore places her in a unique position to guide her country in setting up a surveillance and monitoring framework for NCDs including clinical outcomes Email: lubna.razak@gmail.com
	Mr. Marcus Samo, Palikir, Micronesia Mr Marcus Samo received his undergraduate degree from Creighton University in Omaha, Nebraska and his MPH from University of Hawaii in 1995 in the USA. He also received a post-graduate certificate in Academic Competence in Epidemiology from the University of Michigan School of Public Health and applied epidemiology training from Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia in partnership with US CDC. In his current capacity as the senior permanent public health officer, Mr. Samo oversees all health aspects and programs, including NCDs, in the FSM. He is currently the lead focal point on the WHO STEPS Survey in the FSM. Mr. Samo has conducted and led numerous activities to promote the health of the people in the FSM and in the Western Pacific Region of WHO. Mr. Samo is a native of Chuuk in the FSM and married to Makina Lukas Samo also of Chuuk, FSM. They live in Pohnpei, FSM with their five children Email: msamo@fsmhealth.fm
	Dr Milica Stanistic, Podgorica, Montenegro Milica Stanistic obtained her MD degree from the University of Montenegro. She is currently on her specialization in epidemiology. She has been working at Centre for Disease Control and Prevention in Institute of Public Health Montenegro since 2012, presently working in the Department for Non-communicable Diseases. She has been working on implementation and improvement of the software application for the Report Form for the Acute Coronary Syndrome Registry. At the moment she is member of the Working group for the Colorectal Carcinoma Screening Program Conducting in Montenegro 2013, and will be involved in monitoring and evaluation of this Program as well as for Breast and Cervical Cancer Screening Programs (to be started in less than an year) Email: milica.stanistic@jjzcg.me.

	Dr Rajko Strahinja, Podgorica, Montenegro Rajko Strahinja obtained his MD degree from the University of Belgrade (Yugoslavia) and became specialist in internal medicine at the same University. He has been working as a clinician for 10 years in the Institute for Haemathology in Belgrade, Serbia. Then he moved to UNICEF for 4 years and was engaged in preventive and policy related activities regarding children in Montenegro. He joined IPH of Montenegro in 2004. Next 4 years he spent as a Programme Manager (UNDP) for GFATM funded Strategic response to HIV/AIDS in Montenegro. He was the Assistant minister of Health in the Govt. of Montenegro for 2 years and was one of creators of the CEHAP for Montenegro. As of 2011 he acts as the Head of Dept. for NCDs in CDC of IPH in Montenegro. His main field of interest is cancer epidemiology and he is in charge for the National Cancer Registry. He is also involved in the development of the national colorectal cancer screening programme. He participated in the development of The Initiative for the reduction of salt intake by food in Montenegro. Email: rajko.strahinja@ijzcg.me
	Dr Churit Tengtrisorn, Nonthaburi, Thailand. He got MD degree from Chiangmai University (Thailand) and Certificate of Otolaryngologist from Royal College of Otolaryngologist of Thailand. He used to be a resident in Chest Disease Institute and work at Bamrasnaradura Institute, infectious hospital, as an otolaryngologist. He had to work in Department of Development of Thai Traditional and Alternative Medicine and be a head project of The Meditation Therapy Center for Patients and Relatives in Primary Health Care Project and Buddha Complementary well-being measure development project. He use to work at Bureau of Tobacco Control and be a Chief on duty to arrest organizer who violated the Tobacco Products Control Act, B.E. 2535 (1992) at Tabinfo Asia 2009, during 11-13 November, Bangkok Thailand. It was the successful of Thai anti Tobacco team could against the World Tobacco Expo that was held in Bangkok Thailand. He use to be Thai Delegate in ASEAN Focal Point for Tobacco Control, Committee and Secretariat of National Tobacco Control Strategic Plan Committee and Tobacco control Legislation and Enforcement sub-committee, Department of Disease control, Ministry of Public Health. New position of Bureau of Non Communicable Disease is the national health authority in NCD. We will do the screening program in DM HT, Health Coaching in NCD Clinic and develop the Quality NCD Clinic. Email: t.churit@gmail.com